

PNG Institute of Medical Research

The Institute is seeking to recruit a candidate to work as part of an international team to investigate the causes of enteric illnesses in the people of PNG. The PNG Institute of Medical Research is a Statutory Authority with close links to the National Department of Health.

Graduate Scientific Officer (Goroka)

The successful candidate will be responsible for coordinating processing, storage and shipment of specimens and general laboratory work.

Specific Tasks/General duties

- Conduct microscopy, culture and molecular analysis
- Data management
- Organise shipments of samples
- Conducting various laboratory assays

Skills Required:

- Science or Medical Laboratory Science degree
- Ability to with a high degree of reliability and accuracy
- Ability to with a high degree of independence and initiative
- Willingness to work flexible working hours (if required)
- Able to work as part of a team and collaborate with international researchers
- Good communication skills (spoken and written English and Tok Pisin)

For more information email: recruitment@pngimr.org.pg

Attention: Human Resource Officer

Please apply in writing, including application letter, CV and references, to:

Administration Manager/Human Resource Officer
PNG Institute of Medial Research
P O Box 60, Goroka EHP 441

By COB: Monday, 16th January 2012